

There are many reasons why organisations choose to support the PPI

For some it is as simple as commitment to their organisation's Corporate Social Responsibility and by supporting the PPI they show this commitment by supporting the development of better policies for all.

Other organisations wish to lobby for change and our INDEPENDENT research allows them to add strength to their approach by utilising neutral evidence based research.

Others simply use us a resource for information, after 20 years of conducting and publishing research, we have a considerable body of material and knowledge across the pensions and later life landscape. Many of our supporting members use us as a library.

A small percentage of our members utilise their membership purely for training purposes, to ensure all new staff attend our Knowledge Sharing Seminars and their teams attend PPI events as part of their Continual Professional Development. Our events are also used for networking opportunities as well.

Whatever the reason for supporting us, the broad spectrum of our Supporters demographic help us to achieve our overall mission...

“To promote informed, evidence-based policies and decisions for financial provision in later life through independent research and analysis”.
